

James Madison, President of the United States,

To all & singular to whom these Presents shall come, Greeting:

Whereas a Treaty of Peace and Friendship between between the United States and that portion of the Sac Tribe or Nation of Indians residing on the Missouri River, ^{was made concluded} by Commissioners on the part of the United States, and certain Chiefs and Warriors of the said portion of the Sac Tribe or Nation of Indians, on the part of that portion of the said Tribe or Nation of Indians, which Treaty, is in the words following, to wit:

A Treaty of Peace and Friendship made and concluded between William Clark, Minian Edwards and Auguste Chouteau Commissioners Plenipotentiary of the United States of America, on the part and behalf of the said States of the one part, And the undersigned Chiefs and warriors of that portion of the Sac Nation of Indians, now residing on the Missouri river of the other part.

Whereas, the undersigned Chiefs and Warriors as well as that portion of the Nation which they represent, have at all times been desirous of fulfilling their Treaty with the United States, with perfect good faith; and for that purpose found themselves compelled since the commencement of the late War, to separate themselves from the rest of their Nation and remove to the Missouri river, where they have continued to give proofs of their Friendship and fidelity: And Whereas, the United States, justly appreciating the conduct of said Indians, are disposed to do them the most ample justice that is practicable; the said Parties have agreed to the following Articles.

Art. I. The undersigned Chiefs and Warriors for themselves and that portion of the Sacs which they represent, do hereby assent to the Treaty between the United States of America and the United Tribes of Sacs and Foxes which was concluded at Thomas on the third day of November one thousand eight hundred and four; and they moreover, promise to do all in their power to re-establish and enforce the same.

Art. II. The said Chiefs and Warriors for themselves and those they represent, do further promise to remain distinct and separate from the Sacs of Rock-river, giving them no aid or assistance whatever until peace shall also be concluded between the United States and the said Sacs of Rock-river.

Art. III. The United States on their part promise to allow the said Sacs of the Missouri river all the rights and privileges secured to them by the Treaty of Thomas before mentioned; and also, as soon as practicable to furnish them with a just proportion of the annuities stipulated to be paid by that Treaty; Provided, they shall continue to comply with this and their former Treaty.

In Witness Whereof the said William Clark, Minian Edwards and Auguste Chouteau, Commissioners as aforesaid, and the aforesaid Chiefs and Warriors have hereto subscribed their names and affixed their seals this thirteenth day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifteen and of the Independence of the United States the Fortieth
